

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Date: May 12, 2005

CONTACT: SHANNON COREA

(908) 245-5999 x 10

shannon.corea@realstrat.com

REAL ESTATE STRATEGIES CORPORATION CEO NAMED ENTREPRENEUR OF THE YEAR FINALIST

May 12, 2005: Kenilworth, New Jersey: Matthew Kirby, Vice President of Real Estate Strategies Corporation today announced that the company's President, Andrew B. Zezas, SIOR, has been named as a finalist in the Ernst & Young Entrepreneur Of The Year® (EOY) 2005 New Jersey Awards Program. "Andrew was nominated for this Award by one of our company's most noteworthy clients," said Mr. Kirby. He went on to say "Despite the very stiff competition, we're not surprised by Andrew having been nominated as a finalist for this highly prestigious Award. Our entire company, our clients, friends, and colleagues, are all excited and are very proud of Andrew." When asked about the nomination, Mr. Zezas said "Just having been selected as a finalist for the Ernst & Young Entrepreneur Of The Year® (EOY) 2005 New Jersey Award is a tremendous honor for me. More importantly, it is an affirmation that when you surround yourself with an excellent team, have the opportunity to serve great people at dynamic companies who permit you to be creative, very exciting things can happen!" Mr. Zezas is among a group of highly successful and dynamic New Jersey entrepreneurs, all of whom will be honored as Award finalists at a black tie event to be held at the Glenpointe Marriott Hotel, on June 23, 2005, where the Award winners will be announced.

Past Award finalists and winners include such well known New Jersey entrepreneurs as: Alfred Teo of Sigma Plastics Group, John Bailye of Dendrite International, Lisa Cash of Princeton Softech, and Steve Hammerslag of Micro Technology, among others. Some of the most prestigious business people in the country have received the Award, including Jeff Bezos of Amazon.com, Steve Case of America Online, Michael Dell of Dell Computer, H. Wayne Huizenga of Huizenga Holdings, Herb Kelleher of Southwest Airlines, Howard Schultz of Starbucks Corp, and Tim Koogle, Jerry Yang, and David Filo of Yahoo, to name a few.

Now in its 19th year, the Ernst & Young Entrepreneur Of The Year program continues the tradition of recognizing entrepreneurial excellence. Winners in the 31 regions across the U.S. will be announced at regional awards celebrations during the month of June, and will vie for the national awards, to be presented at a black-tie gala in Palm Springs in November.

Real Estate Strategies Corporation helps companies create and execute business driven real estate solutions and provides intelligent decision-making services to public and private corporations, and not-for-profit organizations, that require a dynamic, flexible and profit focused business approach to solving their real estate issues quickly and professionally.